DETAILED ACTION

This is a first office action on the merits of patent application S. N. 10/798,888.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Concerning claim 1, it is unclear if the "lock-up clutch recited in line 7 is the same clutch recited in line 1. Also, the use of the terminology "inner" and "outer" renders the claim indefinite as no frame of reference has been given. For example, it is not clear if it refers to a radially outer/inner position about an orthogonal plane of the rotational axis or an outer/inner position with respect to the center of the toroidal chamber.

Claim 2 recites "the mounting groove" in line 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for the claim limitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sasse et al.

('312).

Sasse et al. discloses a fluid transmitting system (Fig. 13) comprising a lock-up clutch, pump, a turbine, a side cover, chambers, a clutch piston, lock-up control means, friction engaging means, a freely deformable resilient member, and limiting means (annular extension of the piston towards the turbine).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-4 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Kundermann et al. ('561) disclose another fluid transmitting system (Fig. 2) comprising an annular biasing member.
